

NOTARY REVIEWS FORUM ETIQUETTE

1. Keep It kind

Spirited conversations, disagreements and debates are welcome here, but please do not personally attack or harass other members or become disrespectful.

2. Keep it relevant

The conversations here cover a wide range of topics given our profession, but if posts are consistent with being unrelated to any of the forums titles, we will close the thread. Content that is political or religious in nature will be removed.

3. Keep it clean

Notary Reviews, unlike other discussion groups, aims to create a safe community that is inclusive and open to all members, who come from a wide range of backgrounds and perspectives. Hate speech does not have a place here. If you must use a swear word for matters of clarity, keep it simple. For foul language, use an asterisk (*) to censor the word.

4. Keep it private

Safety and privacy are very important to us for obvious reasons. Avoid taking screenshots of any information posted on these forums. Avoid posting screenshots of any information that displays borrower personal information or other NPPI. DO NOT post screenshots of orders sent to you from platforms, or of emailed conversations that happen here outside of the group.

5. Keep it compliant

If in the course of a member's interactions in this forum, we learn that you have violated any of Notary Reviews Rules, Policies, etc., your membership will be immediately revoked, membership fee paid will be forfeited and banned from any future membership.

6. Stay informed

For full house rules, download the Notary Reviews Rules available at the top of the form.

Thank you all for your anticipated cooperation and please contact Carrie Rivera should you have any questions, concerns, complaints, etc.
